Russell Goes Again to Santo Domingo

W.W. RUSSELL CLIMEDINST

Washington, Aug. 29.—William Worthington Russell of Maryland will soon return to Santo Domingo as the minister of the United States to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of James M. Sullivan of New York. Two years ago Mr. Russell, then minister to Santo Domingo, was supplanted by Mr. Sullivan. Mr. Russell was one of the few members who had held over from the second administration of Grover Cleveland and had had long experience in the diplomatic service. He is a graduate of the Annapolis Naval Academy and is 56 years old.

FIVE DAYS BEFORE WATER IS HAD IN CITY OF GALVESTON

Galveston, Aug. 29.—Galveston has been cut off from its municipal water service for two weeks and it probably will be five days before the mains are re-established. Efforts to repair the submerged main having so far proved futile, work was started today on the main across the causeway which was wrecked when portions of that structure collapsed in the Texas coast storm of August 16-17.

At present a supply of water is being furnished by a temporary eight-inch pipe strung along the remains of the causeway, but this service is inadequate to meet the full demand. There is plenty, however, for drinking purposes.

W. G. Gregg of Palestine, representative of the Seventh congressional district, arrived here today to survey storm damage. He stated that he proposed asking a federal appropriation to help rebuild the Galveston causeway, as well as to strengthen other storm fortifications. He will be here several days gathering data.

Street car and other bureau service corporations now are in operation and general business is being conducted as usual. Trains will start running in and out of the city Wednesday.

Russians Fight Bravely.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—By wireless to Sayville—The Overseas News agency says:

"Reports from the eastern front all say that the Russians are still fighting bravely and tenaciously in certain localities but that the backbone of the Russian army is completely broken. It will be impossible for the Russian army to reorganize and recuperate for a long time."

The number of prisoners and the amount of supplies captured at Brest-Litovsk has not yet been ascertained. The Russians are retreating into the swampy forests southeast of Brest-Litovsk being pursued by our cavalry from Kovno.

"There is general rejoicing over the fall of Brest-Litovsk, which is increased by the fact that it occurred so near the anniversary of the first great defeat by Von Hindenburg of the Russians in the battle of Tannenberg, since which time Von Hindenburg has been the most popular man in Germany. The newspapers point out that nine Russian fortresses, including three of the most powerful—Kovno, Novogeorgievsk and Brest-Litovsk

SUMMARY OF WAR

A continuation of the advance of the Teutonic allies in Russia except in the immediate vicinity of the city of Riga, further progress for the Austrians against the Russians in Eastern Galicia, the only sector where the Muscovites still retain a foothold on Austrian territory and a repulse of the allies by the Turks on the Gallipoli peninsula are the high points contained in the latest official accounts of the fighting on the various battle fronts.

Of probably less moment have been the artillery engagements on the western front, interspersed with hand-to-hand fighting at several points, another French air raid on German barracks in the Ardennes and the Forest of the Argonne; and the breaking up by the Serbians of Austrian operations which had as their objective the fortification of positions along the Danube and Save rivers.

A Berlin wireless dispatch gives a report received from passengers on a steamer arriving at Amsterdam that a British transport with 2,000 Canadian troops had been torpedoed by German submarines with the loss of about 1,000 men. Canadian military authorities deny this report. They say that every troop ship bearing Canadians at sea August 15, the date the disaster is said to have occurred, has arrived safely at its destination.

GEN. HUGH L. SCOTT, CHIEF OF STAFF, IS BACK AT CAPITAL

AFTER SEVERAL WEEKS ON BORDER, DOING SPECIAL WORK FOR STATE DEPARTMENT REGARDING PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE, IS READY TO REPORT.

HAD CONFERENCE WITH VILLA

Was Reported He Planned to Meet Obregon, But That Leader Declared Loyalty to Carranza—Most of General Scott's Negotiations Are Not Known.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, returned to Washington tonight from the Mexican border, where for several weeks he had been doing special work for the state department in furtherance of the Pan-American peace plans. He would not comment on the results of his mission which he will discuss tomorrow with Secretary of State Lansing.

General Scott's first task on arrival at the border was to confer with General Villa, and settled difficulties arising from the seizure of property of foreign merchants at Ciudad Juarez. The general also discussed with Villa the Pan-American convention proposal, which Villa and his followers have accepted.

Since that time the nature of General Scott's negotiations for the state department have not been disclosed. At one time it was reported that he sought to get in communication with General Obregon, Carranza's chief in the field. Whether he succeeded has not been learned. Obregon, however, responding to the Pan-American appeal, said Carranza's answer would be his.

It is taken for granted here that General Scott brought back from the border a fund of interesting information for Secretary Lansing and the Latin-American diplomats to guide them in their future consideration of the Mexican problem. The chief of staff has long been familiar with conditions in Mexico and was personally acquainted with military leaders of the revolt against Huerta who are now divided in the camps of Villa and Carranza.

No disclosures have been made as to the next step the Pan-American conference are planning with reference to Mexico. There will be no meeting until Carranza's reply to the appeal for a convention in neutralized territory has been received.

Carranza's agents say the reply probably will arrive tomorrow or next day. Reports of dissension in the Carranza faction are eagerly confirmed by Villa adherents and vice versa.

Villa followers today had no doubt of a report in — one of the members of Carranza's cabinet had revolted. Carranza adherents scouted reports that Villa had centralized a fighting force of formidable size at Torreon to meet Obregon's army.

To Attack Monterey Today. El Paso, Aug. 29.—Advices received here tonite stated that the attack of the Villa forces upon Monterrey should begin tomorrow.

General Obregon is said to be commanding the Carranza troops at Monterrey while General Villa is reported on the way to the field from Durango. It is said he has cleared the region of Durango city of all roving bands of Carranza soldiers and that most of his army was en route to reinforce General Raoul Madero before Monterrey.

The attack on Monterrey by the Villa forces was considered here as planned for its effect on the forthcoming Pan-American peace conference of Mexican factional leaders. The capture of the city was understood to entail its provisioning, since reports stated the civilian inhabitants were without food supplies. The feeding of the people, it was said, was likely to prove a tax upon the Villa government which was maintaining bread lines at Torreon.

Zapata's Feely Favorable. Mexico City, Aug. 28 (Delayed in Transmission)—General Emilio Zapata has made a favorable reply to the note recently sent by the Pan-American conference to all Mexican leaders offering to aid in arranging a convention to be held in neutralized Mexican territory for the purpose of creating a provisional government to provide for general elections.

Favorable replies also have been received from Generals Manuel Palafax, Francisco Chazaro, Pacheco, Lazaro and others.

Bulgaria Warned by Allies Not to Enter Into Treaty

Berlin, Aug. 29, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The Overseas News agency says that Bulgaria, previously reported to have signed a treaty with Turkey, has postponed ratification of the agreement on account of a sharp warning from the entente allies.

"According to Sofia reports," the news agency says, "Bulgaria has postponed for some days the signing of the treaty with Turkey, the quadruple entente having notified her that such action at the present time would be regarded as a wilfully unfriendly act. Nevertheless, the two powers are in complete agreement."

Steamer Rammed.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 29.—The steamer Admiral Watson of the Pacific Alaska Navigation company was rammed here today and sunk at her wharf by the steamer Paridio, which was damaged slightly. The accident was due to a heavy pall of smoke from forest fires hanging on the bay. A longshoreman on the dock was struck by a falling timber and killed.

SUBMARINE F-4 IS REFLOATED: TOWED INTO HONOLULU BAY

UNDERWATER CRAFT WENT TO THE BOTTOM OUTSIDE HARBOR MARCH 25 WITH CREW OF 21 MEN, DURING MANEUVERS OF "F" SQUADRON.

DIVERS DID WONDERFUL WORK

Despite Breaking of World's Records, Deep Sea Experts Were Unable to Facilitate in Raising Hull and Pontoon Were Resorted to—No Expense Spared by Government.

Honolulu, Aug. 29.—The U. S. submarine F-4, submerged outside the harbor here since March 25 last, was refloated late tonight and towed to the quarantine station in Honolulu.

The submarine F-4, commanded by Lieutenant Alfred L. Ede, and with a crew of 21 men, went to the bottom off the harbor of Honolulu March 25, 1915, during maneuvers of the "F" squadron. She was located two days later and Diver John Agraz of the navy descended 215 feet, establishing a new world's record, in an effort to facilitate the work of bringing her to the surface.

Her crew, it was said, might have been alive at this time but attention at rescue failed and on March 29 Rear Admiral C. R. T. Moore, commanding the Honolulu naval station, reported that the F-4 lay in 270 feet of water and would have to be raised by pontoons.

Secretary Daniels announced that the boat would be raised at any cost in order to determine the cause of the accident, and diving apparatus and divers were sent out, leaving San Francisco April 6 on the cruiser Maryland.

One of the divers, Frank Crilly, went down 228 feet and found one of the compartments of the F-4 filled with water. Another, Will Louder, went down 224 feet the next day and was seriously injured by water pressure.

These men put lines on the F-4 by which the boat was dragged slowly up the shelving bottom, but in the process the stern was wrecked and broken and work was halted to await the arrival of pontoons. Six of these, capable of lifting sixty tons each, were sent from Mare Island navy yard early in August on the Maryland.

At the time of the accident reports gained circulation that the F-4 was not in good shape when she went below water. These were officially denied.

Although the F-4 has been brought into the harbor the wreck is still submerged to a depth of six feet and probably will not be drydocked until Tuesday. Nothing has been divulged until Tuesday.

Nothing has been divulged by the naval officials regarding conditions, if known, inside the vessel.

$45,000,000 ARRIVES FROM ENGLAND TO STRENGTHEN CREDIT

TWENTY MILLION IN GOLD AND TWENTY-FIVE MILLION SECURITIES RECEIVED AT NEW YORK ON SPECIAL TRAIN OF STEEL CARS.

IS SECOND SENT FROM LONDON

Whole Is Consigned to J. P. Morgan and Company—Gold Is Stacked in Seven Hundred Cases and Securities in Eight Cases—Gold and Boxes Weigh Each 120 Pounds.

New York, Aug. 29.—Nearly $20,000,000 in gold and securities valued at $25,000,000, the second large shipment sent from London to strengthen British credit in this country, arrived here early today on a special train of steel cars guarded by thirty-eight men. The shipment came direct by rail from Halifax, N. S., to which port it was conveyed by a British warship, convoyed by smaller craft. On the way to New York the train was preceded by a pilot engine and car.

The gold and securities were consigned to J. P. Morgan and company for account of the British government. The train arrived at the uptown station of an express company and was made up of seven all-steel cars behind a dining car and coach. The gold was stacked in seven hundred cases and the securities were placed in eight large cases. Each gold-filled case weighed 120 pounds.

After the cars were passed from the train to automobile freight trucks under the eyes of the guards, an operation consuming an hour, the procession of trucks numbering twenty-five, with their armor guards on each started from lower West Thirty-fourth street down through the lower West Side to the United States treasury in Wall street, where the gold was deposited by a pilot engine and car.

The gold and securities were consigned to J. P. Morgan and company for account of the British government. The train arrived at the uptown station of an express company and was made up of seven all-steel cars behind a dining car and coach.

The first large shipment of gold and securities received here on August 12 last included about $19,500,000 in gold and $30,000,000 in securities and arrived in much the same manner.

Man Believed to Be Badly Wanted Is Held at St. Louis

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—A man said to be J. W. Barnhardt, a 46-year-old wealthy bank director of Forrest City, Ark., was arrested here tonight on warrants charging him with forgery and attempted murder. His detectives, however, have admitted he is Barnhardt and has confessed to forgery extending over a period of 35 years. The man is held incommunicado by the police.

At least 500 persons within a radius of 200 miles of Newport are reported homeless. Many of these have been marooned without food since last Monday in the upper stories and on roofs of their homes.

Food and money continued to pour into Newport today and the situation in that city is well in hand.

The work of cleaning up the city is being carried on as fast as the flood waters subside.

Detroit Americans Will Train in 1916 at Waxahachie

Dallas, Aug. 29.—Mike Finn, scout for the Detroit Americans, announced today he has closed a contract with the Waxahachie, Texas Commercial club whereby the Detroit club will train at Waxahachie next spring.

Negro Slayers of Officers Burned at Sulphur Springs

Sulphur Springs, Tex., Aug. 29.—In a fight with an armed posse near here this afternoon, Joe Richmon was shot and killed, and his brother, King Richmond, both negroes, was seriously wounded, and later the body of the dead negro was burned at the stake with his wounded brother in Buford park, Sulphur Springs. The negroes, early today had shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Nathan A. Flippin and probably fatally wounded Sheriff J. B. Butler.

Sheriff Butler and Deputy Flippin had started to arrest King Richmond at a negro settlement nine miles south of here on a minor charge, when suddenly and unexpectedly both negroes opened fire, killing Flippin instantly. Butler sustained several bullet wounds, after which the negroes beat him over the head and his condition is said to be precarious.

The news spread rapidly and within a short time hundreds of armed men were scouring the country searching for the negroes.

On Saturday evening, Sheriff Butler and his brother were attacked at the negro settlement. The negroes were armed with rifles and shotguns and were said

"HAPPY DAY FOR ME", SAYS DALLAS MAN

FOR SOME TIME HAD THOUGHT THAT SOMETHING WAS RAD-ICALLY WRONG.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 27, 1915.—"For some time I thought that something was radically wrong with my kidneys and my condition was such that I almost entirely lost my appetite. This caused my system to become run down and in the morning when I would get up, especially since the warmer weather has come on, I had to drag along and practically force myself to do my usual work which is not at all like me, as I am inclined to be rather energetic and I like to work. I also suffered from loss of sleep and my kidneys were in such shape that had to get up several times during the night."

A friend of mine advised me to take Tanlac and it was a happy day for me when I accepted his advice and secured a bottle. I now sleep like a log, can eat anything that is put on the table, in fact, I hardly seem able to get enough to eat; my kidneys no longer bother me, and owing to the fact that my system is now beginning to build up I am gaining steadily and have already gained four pounds. I am now on my second bottle of Tanlac and expect to continue it from now on."

This was the statement of Mr. J. C. Combs, who lives on R. F. D. No. 6, near Cement City.

Commenting upon Mr. Combs' statement, H. E. Garber, who is superintending the introduction of Tanlac in the vicinity, said:

"Tanlac is intended to do all those things which Mr. Combs says it is doing for him. It is intended to bring back the sparkle to the eye and the healthy glow to the cheeks, to create a healthy, normal appetite, to build up the system, and to assist the vital organs in performing their proper functions. Mr. Combs' testimony is indeed gratifying."

Tanlac will continue to be explained at W. B. Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store.

To Use Dynamite in Effort to Get Body to Come to Surface

Marlin, Aug. 29.—After searching and watching along the river bank all night Saturday night, the crowd looking for Mrs. A. V. Woodland's body was relieved this morning by a still larger number of people and a new start was made. The day was spent in dragging the river for some two miles space, but no results were obtained. Late in the afternoon the searchers held a consultation and it was stated at the Barghoener farm that they had decided to use dynamite in an effort to get the body to rise.

Austrian Statement.

Vienna, Via London, Aug. 29.—The following official war statement was given out here tonight:

"Our successes east of Vladimir-Voynik and on the Zlota Lipa broke the enemy's resistance on a front of 200 kilometers (124 miles). Everywhere in their retreat the Russians set fire to villages and destroyed settlements. The number of prisoners who have fallen into our hands has increased to 10,000."

"The troops of Generals Pflanzer and Baltin are pursuing the enemy on the Buzecza. General Baltin's forces, consisting of Germans and Hungarians, have advanced beyond Podgoraz against Zborow. General von Boedt's troops occupied the town of Ermoczow after the Russians had burned it."

"General von Puhallo's corps beat back several Russian rear guards and continued a sharp pursuit of the enemy who were retreating before the forces of Lutsk. Near Kobrin, where the allies are gaining further ground is the only way northeastwards opened to the Russians. In the region of Szczerczwo, Austro-Hungarian forces reached the southeastern edge of Silesia and Puszcza."

"The separate Italian attack on the Isonzo front yesterday increased in extent and violence but nowhere was success. In the Dobrodo sector in the late evening an attack appeared by strong artillery fire. The Austrians were repulsed. In the forenoon two Alpine regiments four times stormed Monte San Michele and penetrated in some places our trenches but everywhere were again repulsed, sustaining severe losses."

"Some time ago the enemy opened a gap against the Gorizia bridgehead but our guns and miners were destroyed all the same day in the environs of our front. The Tolmino bridgehead was under heavy gun fire during the whole day before which two regiments and two Alpine battalions attacked but were repulsed in hand-to-hand fighting. Some attacks against the bridge west of Tolmino were repulsed. The assault, the enemy sustained heavy losses."

"Our artillery repeatedly hit a hostile cruiser and a transport. On our right wing near Atri Burnu on the night of August 27 there were repeated attacks with bombs."

"Our artillery damaged a transport and a tank near Seddo Bahr."

"The usual cavalry and infantry fighting is in progress on the other parts of the front. Otherwise there is nothing to report."

German Official Statement.

Berlin, Aug. 29, Via London—German army headquarters today issued the following statement:

"Eastern theatre: There have been no new developments in the Eastern theatre. Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, Southeast of Kovno: The stubborn resistance of the enemy has been broken. Our troops are pursuing the retreating Russians. The wooded region east of Augustow has been crossed. Further south in the direction of the Odra we reached Dombrovo and Grodek and the sector east of the city of Narew."

"The army group of Prince Leopold is advancing through the Bialowez forest in pursuit of the enemy and has nearly come up with his right wing near Szczerczwo."

"Army group of Field Marshal van Mackensen: After rear guard fighting the Russians were pressed back as far as the Kodubno line on the Pruzyna road."

"Troops co-operating with us from the south through the marshy region have pursued the enemy and almost reached Kolno."

"Southeastern theatre: The Austro-German troops which defeated the enemy have driven him back across the Polozany-Konitzy-Kozowa line and behind the Koropetz sector."

"Our adversary attempted a fierce attack on the evening of the 27th against Monte Armentera but was promptly repulsed."

"In the upper Isonzo region some of our Alpine detachments occupying the position of Monte Cukla west of Monte Rembo tried the making of the 27th to move up to the front. The attacks were situated on several points of the summit of Rombon (17,000 feet) and taking advantage of the difficulties of the terrain made desperate resistance to our troops by infantry fire, hand grenade throwing and even the rolling down of great boulders. Our troops succeeded in capturing only a few points but our adversary was still holding out on the extreme summit of the mountain and our troops are keeping in closest contact with him."

"The Alsevissa aerodrome was again bombed yesterday by one of our squadrons which threw over 120 bombs on the town and the surrounding area. The town was ravaged, fire breaking out in several places. Our aeroplanes although during more than half an hour the target for numerous batteries, returned unscathed after their daring expedition."

Break Russian Lines.

Berlin, Aug. 29, Via London.—The Austro-German troops have broken the Russian lines along the Zlota Lipa river in East Galicia, the Teutons resuming activity on a section of the front where for a long time they have been merely holding their positions.

The Russian extreme left, which hitherto has been unaffected by the general defeat, now apparently is shaken and involved in the general retirement. Military experts express the belief that the invaders soon will be expelled from that corner in Galicia where for some time they have been able to maintain a foothold on Austrian soil.

This development, together with the sharp advance by the Austrians northeast of Kovel, is believed here to indicate the opening of a campaign against the fortress triangle formed by the strongholds Lutsk, Dubno and Rovno, erected as a bar to access to Southern Russia.

Military experts express the belief that the invaders soon will be expelled from that corner in Galicia where for some time they have been able to maintain a foothold on Austrian soil.

"Between the 31st of July and the 24th of August only two troop ships with more than 200 troops on board have been dispatched from Canada and they have both arrived safely at their destination. Moreover, every troop ship bearing Canadian troops which was at sea on August 15 has arrived safely at its destination."

"There is no Canadian troop ship available and if the story coming via Sayville has any basis for truth it must refer to the torpedoing of the Canadian Northern steamship Royal Edward in the Aegean sea, the report of which event reached Canada August 17."

Official Denial Made.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 29.—Official denial was given here tonight to the report contained in the Berlin message by wireless to Sayville, N. Y., that a British troop ship carrying 2000 Canadian troops had been sunk off the Sable Islands on August 15. The military authorities issued the following statement regarding the report:

"Between the 31st of July and the 24th of August only two troop ships with more than 200 troops on board have been dispatched from Canada and they have both arrived safely at their destination. Music Cheers Souls of Soldiers in Lull in Trench Warfare

Be Writes Brother-in-Law of W. J. Geiser from Interior of Austria-Hungary.

London, Aug. 29, 12:15 p. m.—In connection with their movement against the Serbians the Austrians are attempting to construct new defensive works along the border on the banks of the Danube and Save rivers. An official statement dealing with these operations was forwarded today from Nish to Reuter's Telegram company. It follows:

John D. Rockefeller Refers to Himself as the Prodigal Son

Cleveland, Aug. 29.—John D. Rockefeller referred to himself as the prodigal son after listening to a sermon on that subject at the Euclid avenue Baptist church today. It was after the Rev. Samuel Lindsay of Bellevue, Pa., former assistant pastor of the church, spoke of the prodigal's folly and failure, repentance and success.

"You are right," said Mr. Rockefeller, addressing the pastor. "I can see in myself the prodigal son." Then he added: "You may be able to beat me preaching, but you can't beat me at golf."

LUIS IN WAR, JERRY AMUSES HIMSELF

French army officers of all ranks know the value of music in cheering up the souls of their men, wearied by the warfare in the trenches, and the soldiers are encouraged in the hills in the fighting, to exhibit whatever musical talent they possess. One of them was observed and photographed recently while eliciting from a cornet sounds that were more or less musical.

the energy laid down in the German manpower. Summary, where German cavalry yesterday defeated a Russian cavalry division, is forty miles east of Brest-Litovsk. The military experts say that this morning the forces of Germans is now in a position to bite deep into the flank of the retreating Russians and bag many prisoners if not to convert the retreat into an utter rout. With more cavalry in hand, the Austro-German strategists, it is said, might perhaps before this have compelled Grand Duke Nicholas to an accept battle. The belief is expressed that his retreat from now on will be doubly difficult.

Summary, there has been much speculation here concerning the limits to which the pursuit of the Russians would be pressed. Some had assumed that the advance would not be continued much beyond Brest-Litovsk but the impression is now general that the pursuit will proceed so long as it continues to give pay-off, return captives and offers a chance to bring into the field armories to bay.

Meanwhile a permanent line of defense will be selected and fortified as a barrier against a new Russian offensive, it is stated.

Fighting at Dardanelles.

Constantinople, Via London, Aug. 29.—A naval attack by land and sea on the Turkish positions in the Dardanelles has resulted in heavy fighting. The Turkish war office announced today that several onslaughts had been repelled with heavy losses to the allies. It also was said that a cruiser and a transport of the allies had been hit repeatedly by the German guns. The statement follows:

"The reason," says Mr. Balfour in his letter, "is quite simple. Zeppelins attacked under cover of night and by pre-arranged on moonless nights in which the forest of Malincourt fell into possession of the Germans. We remained in possession of these."

"Violent German attacks near Marie Therese, and west of the forest of Malincourt, were repelled. The statement follows:

"Our artillery continued during the night its activity. The cannonading was especially active in the sector of Ablain in the region of Roye, north of Arras, in the vicinity of Craonne and Bapaume, as well as between the Aisne and the Argonne."

"There was violent hand-to-hand fighting at Atrier. The tanks and the barricades of Malincourt fell into possession of the Germans. We remained in possession of these."

"Last night our aeroplanes bombed the railway station and the barracks of the enemy at Grand Pre, in the Ardennes, as well as the barracks of Monchemin and Lancon, in the Argonne."

"In sending the messages in this contest Brickhouse also established a new world's record.

The tournament just ended was the most successful in its history, according to officials, and was open to the world. A score of entrants contested for the championship.

Wilson Is Hopeful Regarding Outcome of Arabic Matter

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson decided definitely today to remain in Washington until the situation between the United States and Germany is cleared up. Officials have been urging him to go to Cornish, N. H., for rest, but he has announced that he will stay here until he receives further word from Berlin.

The president, it was said, has been led by the statements of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to Secretary Lansing, and reports received from American Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, to hope that a solution for the submarine controversy with Germany will be found.

"He is waiting, however, for the German government's formal disavowal of the attack on the Arabic and assurances that the majority of Americans traveling on unarmed merchantmen will not be endangered again."

The president had planned to spend the entire month of September at Cornish, but it was said today to be unlikely that he would return there this year.

Count Bernstorff left for the summer embassy on Long Island today. He still was confident that within a short time a formal communication would reach Washington from the Berlin foreign office disposing of the situation growing out of the sinking of the Arabic and paving the way for an amicable adjustment of all issues between the American and German governments.

The ambassador probably will not return to the capital until the note from Berlin arrives.

Governor Carlson Denounces Walsh

Denver, Aug. 29.—Governor E. A. Carlson tonight issued a prepared statement charging that Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the federal commission on industrial relations, had spread "mendacious statements" regarding the political and industrial conditions in Colorado.

"After declaring that the people of the state at the 1914 election deliberately decided against strike violence, the government continues to do so."

By nature a montebello and a semi-satirist, he (Walsh) did not tell the truth because the truth concerning Colorado is not wanted by the yellow press of the nation and those anarchist elements whom he represents."

Trouble Faced in Portugal.

Lisbon, Via Paris, Aug. 29.—Parliament has passed a resolution stating the government in view of the grave events in Northern Portugal will employ rigorous measures to preserve order.

Newspapers report that the present cause of the disturbances is Captain Henrique de Paiva Couceiro, royalist leader.

On Friday last Minister of the Interior Dr. Silveira announced that the national council that monarchist movement had broken out in Northern Portugal and that the barracks at Guimaraes, near Braga had been attacked and many persons wounded.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WAYS TO SERVE BACON.

WHEN you first tasted the much vaunted bacon of England, praised by Dickens and Thackeray and every other distinctively English writer, were you disappointed? Was it served to you white and soggy under an egg in a little crockery dish? And had you expected something crispier and sweeter and browner and brittier than the bacon served at home?

A good many persons have been disappointed in the half-cooked bacon that one usually gets in England. Doubtless the English palate is disturbed by the crisp bacon we serve—and doubtless the English comment about this bacon overdone and flavorless. Such is the habit of appetite.

But both English and American will agree that bacon can be made or marred in the cooking, and it is rather odd that in most households bacon is served in one or at most two ways. The other ways in which it can be deliciously cooked, each bringing out some new flavor, are ignored.

When bacon is to be served with some fried dish the bacon should be dried and the other dish fried in the bacon fat. For instance, corn fritters fried in bacon fat and garnished with crisp slices of bacon, fried liver and bacon, fried tomatoes and bacon and many other combinations can be best cooked in this way.

But most American tastes prefer broiled bacon to any other sort. It must be broiled over or under a flame not too hot, and it must be broiled to just the proper state of crispness, so that it is flaky and golden brown, streaked with tender lean, but not charred at the edges and not so dry that it breaks the moment the fork touches it.

Another method of cooking bacon to just the right degree of crispness is effected by dropping it into hot, deep fat. In this, if the fat be of just the right heat, the bacon browns and curls deliciously. And liver and bacon cooked together in deep fat are thought by many to be far superior to the same articles fried or sauted in a shallow pan. Lift the bacon out of the fat with a wire fork or a strainer, for an ordinary fork is quite likely to break it.

If the bacon is sauted in its own fat lift it from the fat as soon as it is sufficiently browned, for bacon, like everything else, can become soaked with fat to such an extent that it is unpalatable and indigestible.

Attacks in All Ages Have Had No Effect and Gospel of Christ Has Stood Every Test.

Beginning a busy day of religious activity for the Young Men's Christian association yesterday, the weekly Sunday afternoon meeting in the Crystal theatre was addressed by Rev. W. P. Meroney, pastor of the Turner Street Baptist church. At night, gospel teams from the association had charge of the services at the Elm Street Methodist church and the Scandinavian Methodist church.

Rev. Mr. Meroney spoke to a good crowd in the Crystal theatre at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the difficulties of living right in business and everyday life. Some of the principal obstacles, he said, were the desire to conduct everyday affairs in a manner so as to be popular and to make money. Popularity and riches alone do not pay here or hereafter, the preacher told an interested crowd of men.

D. P. Wallace and J. A. Richards were the speakers for the gospel team that conducted the services at the Scandinavian Methodist church. Temple and Jefferson streets, last evening. Mr. Wallace delivered a practical address on the value of Bible study to the business man and the man in everyday life. His talk contained much valuable information as to methods of Bible study. Mr. Richards told of his personal experiences with religion, and what it has meant to him in business. The Y. M. C. A. quartet, composed of E. W. Hander, L. Stone, J. B. Barron and S. R. Hankins, furnished music for the service.

At the close of the service conducted by the gospel team at the Elm Street Methodist church five men in the audience requested the prayers of the workers. The team at this church was composed of Crate Dalton, Rush Berry, F. A. Winchell and N. H. Melbert. Intense interest was given the Y. M. C. A. workers throughout the service by the large congregation present.

Letters from the People

Farmers Must Build for Themselves.

To the Waco Morning News:—No one has been more pleased while working in the interest of permanent warehouse and marketing law to visit your county and city, and I can truthfully say there is not a county that I have visited in the state that needs the benefits of this law more than your county does. You now have warehouse facilities for taking care of a part of your cotton, which I hope the farmers will avail themselves of; yet you should have the benefit of the marketing of.

"If you will go with us you must go against wind and tide; you must stand in your religion in his rags, as well as in slippers and gown; you must stand by him when in iron, as well as when walking the streets mid applause.—Pilgrims Progress."

"The trials which demands are to be met, not dodged nor shunned. One such demand, just now, is spiritual religion, rather than ritualistic and formalistic. The stressful world conditions make their mighty appeal for simple, direct, non-complicated religion. We baptist glory in that. We have the article demanded. Zealous presentation of it, and all is well! Liberty, freedom, individuality—these Baptists boast. But, I caution you, unbridled freedom, over-emphasized individuality, may be our undoing. Hereby shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to the other." Freedom married to brotherhood is safe, and mighty. Another world demand: the offspring of this union.

"I am asked: 'Shall we know each other in heaven?' I think so; but O, that we know better now, and here! How sorely needed!

"Christianity is ever intended to be a conquering religion. Baptists are to make conquests, if they are worthy at all. Conquest through co-operation. Herein is Baptist strength. Not an individuality so free as to come into existence in exaggerated self-right. But affection for the 'sons of God' so strong that individuality is joyously contributed to further the main cause. Satan will surely seek unwarranted distinctions. Some hurtful terms as city Baptists and country Baptists, First Church Baptists and Baptists from the sticks! Beware of such tricks of the wicked one. 'We be brethren.'

"The times and the human race demand a better brand of religion than God's people have yet offered. Men are offering constantly the potent excuse that strive, jealousy and division among the people of God thus turn them less to God. Our mission as Baptists is: First, to find our own strength in union. Take away this awful excuse so far as ourselves are concerned. Second, to live and serve and heal many of the diseases afflicting the race."

"An adequate literature is needed. Some gigantic enterprise is needed. Segregation can never accomplish this. Individual initiative zealously consumed in fraternal endeavor will accomplish. A charming child story: 'The lovely palace vanishing. Envy and jealousies caused it to vanish. Tradition said it could be restored by loftiest harmonious music. The "masters" aspired to the mighty deed. But each hoped the other might not succeed lest himself should fall of the honor.' It was such a division that caused failure. A youth in a distant part of the land aspired to do the magic act. He trained for it till admiring said his music was enchanting. He started for the place, and on his way met another youth who had the same aspiration. They talked it over and harmonized, agreeing to blend their efforts, and play together. On their journey they met an old "master" going up for the same purpose. They journeyed together. There was a similar company coming from another part of the land for the same purpose. When another company came, when they arrived there were many similar groups. They played, one and then another. But the divisions were there that caused defeat. Finally, the youths began harmonizing, and together they made such melodies that the "masters" forgot selfishness and gradually blended their skill until the multitudes looking upward began saying: 'Behold the palace, the palace!' And the kingdom was restored."

"O, city Baptists! and country Baptists; 'great Baptists' and little Baptists, let's see our day, and rejoice!"

And where Paul is commenting on Timothy's thorough knowledge of the Scriptures and referring to such exalted advantages he says: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works"—2 Tim. 3:16-17. With these Scriptures before us we conclude that they are written for individuals that meet the conditions of the word.

Bible Compared With Other Literature.

"The Bible is older than any other. In reading the Bible you recognize that you are drinking at the original fountain. Hall Caine, the famous novelist that visited this country some years ago, said that he attributed his success largely to reading the Bible.

"He said, has very much the same appeal for me that it had for Bunyan. There is no book like it and the finest novels ever written fall far short in interest to any of the stories it tells. Talmage was fond of saying that every great book that had been written since the first printing press was lifted has directly or indirectly derived much of its power from the Sacred Oracle.

"Goethe, the admired of all skeptics, has his walls at Weimar covered with sacred maps and pictures. Milton's Paradise Lost is part of the Bible in black and white. Taasse's Jerusalem Delivered is borrowed from the Bible. Many of the writings of the parables. John Bunyan saw in his dream only what St. John saw in apocalyptic vision. McCaulay crowns his most gigantic sentences with quotations from the Bible.

"Walter Scott's Characters are Bible men and women with different names. Shakespeare's Lady Macbeth is old Queen Jezebel. Moody was pleased to say that the Bible is the only new book.

"The Bible is the X-ray that penetrates the inner life and discovers the thoughts and intents of the heart, the divine glass through which you can see the unseen and behold the invisible. In it you can see yourself as no one else can. It is a prophecy that unfolds and reveals your future and by it you can tell whether you will be happy or miserable. It is for us.

Bible Stands Test.

"Will it stand the test? Will it meet the demands?

"In all ages and by all grades it has been ridiculed more bitterly, misrepresented more grossly, opposed more rancorously than any other book. The rain has descended, the floods have beaten the winds have howled, the fires have burned, but it has not been consumed. Gold tried in the fire. Like the burning bush ever in the flame but never destroyed. It is the everlasting

FOR A FREE NIGHT SCHOOL.

It is gratifying to note that the school authorities are willing to again inaugurate the free night school this year if they have any assurance that there will be a sufficient response to justify the effort and the expense incurred. It will be recalled that the first year of free night school in this city was made possible by private subscription. The attendance that year indicated the popular interest was sufficient to justify the school board in taking it over the following year at public expense. The first year under the school board's control was marked by a fair attendance, though not so good as the preceding year, but the second year witnessed such a falling off that the project had to be abandoned.

There is every reason why a night school, in a city the size of Waco should be liberally patronized. There are hundreds of young boys at work in this city who have no opportunity to go to school during the day who should be glad to embrace the opportunity to get hold of the fundamentals offered them in the six hours a week of instruction in the night school. And then there are many older boys and girls, too, who could improve their ability to read and write the English language and their knowledge of arithmetic, geography and a few of the other fundamentals, to say nothing of their chances of promotion in the business in which they are engaged by attending the night schools. Then, too, there are the foreign-born residents who could greatly improve themselves in every way by attendance upon such a school.

LIVING TO BE 100 YEARS OLD.

Like to live 100 years?

Like to be able to take your great-grandchildren upon your knee a century hence and regale them with the marvelously slow things that characterized the good old days?

Like to have your pictures run in the newspapers as living examples of the virtues of the latest patent medicines, foods, or methods of physical culture?

Whether you would or not, a bunch of prominent Atlanta women have banded themselves together to point out the way, and we leave it up to you as to whether you decide to follow their suggestions, some of which are embodied as follows:

Rise early.

Eat no breakfast.

Eat no meat.

Drink no tea or coffee.

Take regular outdoor exercise.

Go to bed early.

Is it worth the price if such abstinence is to be followed? some may ask.

It all depends. If a life of abstinence is lived and one's physical and mental and spiritual powers have been left unimpaired, then old age will be a pleasure and will be marked by none of the desire to "shuffle off this mortal coil," which so frequently marks the declining days of those who have employed no self-restraint in the control of their appetites and who have taken no pains to conserve their physical and mental resources as they have gone through life.

With the proper care of all one's energies and faculties and resources, living to be 100 years old ought to be pleasure.

JUSTICE FOR BILLY SUNDAY.

THE MONTESSORI MOVEMENT.

Billy Sunday employs language and methods which we, if we were a minister, could never bring ourselves to use. But it is doubtless true that the methods which we would employ would so handicap him that he could accomplish little or nothing, and we are willing to concede to him some of the freedom of movement in doing good as he sees it that we ourselves exercise.

This paper has employed a humorous paragraph occasionally at Sunday's expense, when we thought the opportunity afforded, but we have a great deal more respect for Billy Sunday, with all his radical methods, than we have for those people who criticize him so sharply, but who have never been known to give liberally to those churches and pastors for whom they have never sought in any other way to bring about the salvation of the people whom the baseball evangelist is trying to reach.

Of course, that is all a myth about Mr. Sunday exacting a contract from those cities where he goes for $100,000 in cash before he will consent to conduct a meeting there. We understand that he does demand that the committees provide ample facilities for carrying on the work of the meeting in a very comprehensive manner throughout the city where he labors and, of course, this entails expense. For instance, should he come to Dallas, that city will be so organized that every nook and corner of it can be reached by workers within ten minutes. The department stores and factories will be so organized that every employee can be reached within a few minutes. During the recent Philadelphia meeting 8000 cottage prayer meetings were held in that city. The preaching of the evangelist is only a part of the great religious campaign that is carried on.

There are those who will object to Mr. Sunday's methods of doing things and especially to his style of preaching, but in such a comprehensive campaign as he puts on there will be abundant opportunity for every sincere Christian who really wants to do something to win his fellows to God to get out and work without listening to the evangelist's sermons. It is Mr. Sunday's desire to be used as an instrument of God in winning lost men to Him, and those who have seen drunkards won to sobriety, gamblers to respectability and an upright life, thieves to honesty, and obscene men to lives of purity under his preaching, will not doubt for a moment that God is honoring his labors. And he does not ask for $100,000 as a previous consideration. Nor does he ask for any single amount. He does his work and does it well and takes only what the people, out of the gratitude of their hearts, are willing and glad to give. They usually give liberally, but they give voluntarily and their response is no longer in proportion than the remuneration commanded by the top men of any other profession.

Cole Blease, the rambunctious ex-governor of South Carolina, who while occupying the state house of the Palmetto State, sought to build up a political machine by emptying the penitentiary of its inmates, announces that he will be a candidate for governor again. In doing so he remarks, "so on with the dance; let joy be unconfin'd." But there will be neither joy nor dancing among the people of the better element of South Carolina in his announcement and we have an idea they will repeat what they did to him when he offered for the United States senate from that state.

Wisconsin's legislature did the unexpected and lopped off $4,000,000 in expenditures of the state government at one session. Now it is in order for some of the other states that followed Wisconsin into the creation of numerous new offices and commissions to take their bearings and follow the same state of Bob La Follette back to simplicity in government. Wisconsin affected this economy without in any way interfering with the maintenance of that state's excellent educational system.

The Trenton Tribune brings the information that a carload of syrup buckets was unloaded there recently and that nearly every farmer in that section is going to put up some syrup this year. This is diversification and living at home of a character that brings results, and the farmer and his family are assured of getting good, pure syrup, too. They can also make life on the farm more attractive by giving the kids a candy pulling occasionally.

S. T. Morgan, president of the Dallas brewery, testified in the hearing at Austin, that Texas brewers contributed 20 cents per barrel on their sales for the creation of an anti-prohibition fund and that the wholesalers paid 2 per cent of their gross receipts for the same purpose. And yet some people deny that ample funds are always at the command of the liquor forces when they want to fight local option or prohibition.

A Dallas cop is about to lose his job because he refused to lift his hat to a prominent woman of the city who addressed him. This cop is destined to learn that there is some truth in the old adage that "Politeness pays." European powers looking for something to blame the war upon might remember that the Chinese invented gunpowder, reminds the Wall Street Journal.

If Harry Thaw's payment of his entire fortune to his lawyers should prevent his remarriage the country will have no occasion to worry.

The city of Nashville has begun its much-needed reform by reducing salaries 25 per cent. George Bailey and some other paragraphs of the state would declare this to be very undemocratic, but we deem it very proper under the circumstances.

MAIDS WEAR
PINK CORSETSThe Suggestion of the Flesh Tint
Particularly Liked For Evening
Wear Under Habiliments
Which Affect This Color.

Now that the "dainty" season has come many girls are buying corsets of a pale pink color whose hue matches the delicate nuance of the chiffon combination or the crepe de chine camisole. It is a happy idea to have pink corsets to wear with one's evening frocks, as the suggestion of the flesh tint, which is found in nearly all evening habiliments, is thereby intensified.

However, the practical woman will stick to the all white stays. It is astonishing the variety of models that are being offered, and even more so is the low price at which good corsets are now sold. In Paris the woman of average means thinks nothing of paying seven or eight dollars a pair for the important foundation garment, realizing that the success of her gown or tailleur very greatly depends on the sort of corset over which it is molded.

The Frenchwoman prefers to economize on her outer apparel rather than on the corset, but here in America it is not necessary to pay an exorbitantly high price for the latter. The domestic manufacturer has reduced corset making to something of a science. He has been at considerable pains to study the various types of figures possessed by the women who are his patrons. He has solved the important matter of fabric, weight, durability and cost, and he has evolved excellent models with a minimum of boning and very shapely and comfortable at that.

For the girl who likes a bit of color it is rather a pretty idea to have the corset lacing of pale blue or pale pink to match the ribbons of her lingerie. Silk lacings are to be recommended always, because, while their cost is greater in the beginning, they wear better, are softer against the vertebrae and therefore more hygienic.

Alluring Organdie Frocks.

The shops are showing the most alluring little frocks of white or pastel tinted organdies. One sweet model in flesh tint has a full short skirt of two tiers gathered on a rather high baby waist and girdled simply with a black velvet ribbon with four full blown pink roses finishing the front. The full waist is sleeveless and cut low and round in the neck. Over it is worn a bolero effect of lace with tiny little puff sleeves but a third of the way to the elbow. This is evidently a forerunner of the threatened sleeveless frock for summer afternoon wear. Pale yellow organdie dresses with two tiered skirts in two tones of yellow look like inverted daffodils, and a pink one ruffled from waist to ankle has all the beauty of a full blown rose.

THE NEW WALK.

The wide skirt has brought about a new walk, which at present it is difficult to define. Before the war women shuffled. It was the only thing for them to do when their skirts were so tight. But today, if they avoid foolish heels, they may walk with mid-Victorian heroines or with Greek goddesses. They may walk with the benefit of Swedish exercises and the value of sport, for the modern dress offers no resistance to free movement. It neither confines the feet nor the waist. We can breathe deep and move freely.

The result so far is rather like a futuristic picture in its confusion. We see every kind of a walk and nothing that looks as if it were quite the finished thing. The memory of the tight skirt tyrannizes over some women even yet, others are trying to stride and swing once more, some mince, some trip, a few swagger, and a minority tread the earth with such exquisite grace that only a poet would be able to do them justice.

Dollars come home to roost," reads headline in one of our exchanges. We wish we were able to add that they also lay golden eggs.

2000 Troops Aboard

Berlin, Saturday, Aug. 29, via Wireless to Sayville, Aug. 29.—Passengers on the Holland-American steamer Ryndam arriving in Amsterdam bring a report that a British transport with 2000 Canadian troops on board was torpedoed off the Scilly Islands on Aug. 15. It was said about 1000 men were saved.

No hint has come from British sources of the foregoing report. While it is possible that such an event occurred the British censor may have withheld the news, this is improbable in view of the fact that official announcement was made promptly of the torpedoing of the British transport Royal Edward in the Aegean sea with the loss of about 1000 men.

The Royal Edward was sunk on August 14, one day before the date mentioned in the wireless dispatch from Berlin and it is possible that the report brought in by the Ryndam's passengers is a garbled version of this incident.

The Ryndam arrived at Rotterdam August 22 and has since sailed on her return voyage for New York. The trip from Rotterdam to Amsterdam requires only a few hours, so that it is expected that the passengers who proceeded to Amsterdam on Aug. 15 or there August 22 or 23, nearly a week after the date of the Berlin dispatch.

The Scilly Islands lie off the southwest coast of England near the line of steamship traffic between New York and Southampton. German submarines have been active in these waters. Movements of transports are kept secret by the British admiralty so that there has been no information to indicate whether a Canadian troop ship was in the vicinity of the Scilly Islands on the date mentioned.

The loss of the Royal Edward so far as has been officially announced is the only serious mishap which has occurred in connection with the transportation of Great Britain's hundreds of thousands of troops between the colonies and England and between England and various fighting fronts.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—Brigadier General John J. Pershing, U. S. A., left late today for Cheyenne, Wyo., whether he is taking the bodies of his wife and three baby girls for burial. With him is his five-year-old son, Warren, who alone of the family survived the fire in the frame quarters at The Presidio in which Mrs. Pershing and the little girls, Ann, Helen and Margaret, lost their lives last Friday.

United States Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, and Mrs. Warren, parents of Mrs. Pershing, also were in the party.

General Pershing, who has been commanding of the Eighth infantry brigade on the Mexican border until recalled by news of his terrible loss, arrived from El Paso. He was met at Oakland by a group of old friends, headed by Major Henry E. White, post commander at The Presidio. They accompanied him to the hospital on the military reservation, where the general gathered into his arms his little son, the only survivor of the family he had planned to bring to him at Fort Bliss this week.

The bodies were escorted to the train by twenty-four sergeants from the troops stationed at The Presidio and by a number of city and army officials.

The honorary pall bearers were: Major James G. Harbord, First cavalry; Major John L. Hines of the adjutant general's department; Major E. A. Lewis, Sixth infantry; Major Harry J. Hirsch, U. S. infantry, quartermaster's corps; Major John T. Nance, retired, and Lieut. Charles Burnett, First cavalry.

Workingmen's Canteens Solve Problem for the Laborers.

(London, W.)

When we come to make up the profit and loss account on the war it is to be hoped that people will not forget to include the very valuable lessons that we have learned, lessons which will be of great benefit. There is one which may be overlooked, and which even now is only partially appreciated, so it is perhaps desirable to lay stress on it as the proper feeding of the working classes.

This is no recommendation of socialism. It is merely the obvious truth that the workingmen are well fed, since they are in peace times, whereas regularity of attendance and effective discharge of duties. When the best men of the nation went to war there were many people who were surprised at the inefficiency of the labor which was left. The denouement of the war brought home to us, with the result that the working classes are now springing up in all parts of the country, mostly under government auspices.

As already stated, this is not socialism, it is not even philanthropy. It is simply that the demands of the state require it from the point of view of national health, while in the trade it is to economic considerations will dictate the employment of only fit men. It is perfectly conceivable how in Great Britain we are so absolutely retrograde in the provision of proper food for the working classes. We ought to take a mark from other countries, from Danmark, especially from Germany, indeed from almost every industrial country, on whose methods we too often affect to look with contempt. These canteens would not be any burden on the employers. They could easily be made self-supporting, though they only have to be run intelligently.

Let me give a type of semi-governmental canteen now in existence, prefacing remarks by saying that it just fits its particular care and management, though there are no expenses except for the actual materials. At this canteen there are practically five meals. Early tea, 5:15 a. m.—Tea, coffee or cocoa, with bread and butter, 10¢. Breakfast, 8:30 a. m.—Tea, coffee, cocoa, bread, and one of the following dishes, provided on different days: Bacon and eggs, bacon and tomatoes, two boiled eggs, Kippers and blinis, 5d. If a man does not like the set breakfast he may have extra for eggs or ham.

Many of British Nobility Are Killed in Great War

London, Aug. 29.—The casualty lists of the British army have already, after a little more than a year of war, brought hundreds of changes in the British peerage. Many heirs of great titles have fallen, and in numerous cases the next heir is now in the trenches. Several notable titles will become extinct as the result of the death of the sole legal heir.

The changes wrought in the peerage by the death roll call into prominence the complications and anomalies of the laws of succession, and it is possible that legislative action may be taken to straighten out some of the tangles which would wipe out titles long cherished in national memorials, or which would cause them to pass to some obscure relative without the shadow of just claim to eminence.

Captain Lord Brabourne, his heir, has been succeeded by his cousin, Captain Eustace Maude, who is serving in the Egyptian army.

Captain Lord Brabourne. His heir is his uncle, Capt. Knatchbull-Hugessen, who is serving in the army.

Robert Ernest, eldest son of Lord Burleigh, is succeeded as heir by his brother, also in the army.

Lieutenant Lord Congleton is succeeded by his brother, John Parnell, a lieutenant in the army. The heir presumptive is his brother, William, eleven years old.

Lieutenant Lord Spencer, Compton, only son and heir to the Marquess of Northampton, is succeeded as heir by Lord Douglas Cecil, the Marquis' uncle.

Lieutenant Colonel G. H. Morris left a baby son, who is heir to Lord Kilian of Galway.

DOUBLE HEADER ENDS IN EVEN BREAK, DALLAS 2 TO 1 AND WACO 4 TO 2.

GOULAIT IS HIT FREELY

Error by Ens Figures in Waco's Victory—Ogle Effective in the Second Contest.

Dallas, Aug. 29.—Dallas and Waco split a double header this afternoon, the locals copping the first game 2 to 1 and losing the second 4 to 2. The first was won by timely hitting. Goulaite was hit freely in the second game and was accorded uneven support. An error by Ens in the eighth inning let in two runs for Waco. Ogle worked in effective style. The scores:

San Antonio Beats Houston Buffs 3-1

Houston, Aug. 29.—Playing the first home game since the hurricane with a patched grandstand and grass a foot high in the outfield, Houston was beaten 3 to 1 by San Antonio. Ponder pitched a masterful game and fanned nine locals. Though played rapidly enough, the game was uninteresting and lacked features.

Are you a good guesser?

The General says:—No man living can take three different kinds of Roofing and determine in advance by such tests as bending, twisting, tearing, or smelling, how long each will last on the roof. The best you can do is to make a guess. That is why is guaranteed by us 5, 10 or 15 years according to whether the thickness is 1, 2 or 3 ply. Most roofs look alike, and even trained chemists can judge roofing quality only by the raw materials that are put into the roofing and not from the finished product.

The responsibility of the biggest Roofing and Building Paper Mills in the world stands behind our guarantee and this makes it unnecessary for you to take the risk of guessing.

Certain-teed Roofing has made good on the roof throughout the entire world. Ask your local dealer for further information. He will quote you reasonable prices.

No Special Day for Traveling Men at Cotton Palace

Austrians Confident of Final Success and Food Plentiful

Answering the call, through the newspapers, of Tom G. deCordova, who was general chairman of Traveling Men's Day at the Cotton Palace last year, to take action as to Traveling Men's Day at this year's exposition, there assembled a crowd of traveling men which taxed the capacity of the reception room at the Hotel Waco yesterday morning.

C. Herbert Green was selected as temporary chairman of the meeting. A motion was put and carried that there would be no Traveling Men's Day at this year's Cotton Palace, but that all present would use every energy to promote the success of the big show, as individuals, and would advertise the Cotton Palace as favorably and as extensively as they had always been pleased to do in the past, and expressed the kindest feeling for the success of the Texas Cotton Palace. The meeting then adjourned.

Children to Give Entertainment for Public Nurse Fund

The deferred juvenile entertainment on the Asher Sanger lawn for the benefit of the public nurse fund will be given at 8 o'clock tonight. Two previous dates had been set for this event, but weather interfering each time. The affair is in charge of Misses Lois Her, Elka Jacobs and Schor Landman, and a large audience will be greatly appreciated by them and the children taking part in the entertainment.

Stubblefield Moves; McRae-Grimland Will Not Be Closed

The Grocery-So-Different will open up this morning in its new location, 412 Austin avenue, the fixtures and stock having already been moved under the personal supervision of George G. Stubblefield, proprietor. Patrons of old stock will be surprised at the beautiful interior of the store and at the rapid progress made in moving from one place to the other.

Beginning this morning, the McRae-Grimland Shoe company will commence moving from its present location to the building just vacated by Mr. Stubblefield. All the stock, more of it now, will be in the new location by tomorrow night, but business will be conducted today and tomorrow in the present store, 416 Austin avenue, and as most of the moving will be done by night, it is expected that everything will be ready for business in the new location bright and early Wednesday morning. Mr. McRae said yesterday that the store would not be closed at all and that the business would be continued right on through the moving.

Miss Little Sings at Concert Given on Roof of Casino

The singing of Miss Lola Little was one of the most pleasing features of the concert given on the roof garden of Cotton Palace Casino last night.

Miss Little sang, "My Heart Has Learned to Love You," and an encore, the beautiful little song, "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

One of the largest crowds yet heard the program and the Casino orchestra made even more friends, being in exceptionally fine fettle and rendering some of the best music heard in Waco in many days.

Christian Endeavor Meeting.

The Christian Endeavor had charge of the services at the Second Presbyterian church last night. James W. McLaren, Jr., being the leader. A fine program was given, the topic being "Frivolity, Its Dangers and Remedies." Miss Anna Mae Wood will be the leader for the meeting next Sunday night, and the topic will be, "Zeal for Your Task."

Miss Velma Smathers will open her piano studio at the Trio Music company's hall, 214½ South Fourth street, September 20th. Special attention is given to beginners. Old phone 350. (Advertisement)

GIRL SETS SWIMMING RECORD.

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—By swimming two miles with the current of the Mississippi river in 19 minutes 53 seconds here, Dorothy Smith, 16-year-old school girl, today lowered by twelve minutes the previous record for the course and won the fourth annual two mile swim for women conducted by the Western Swimming club under the auspices of the American Legion. Each of the fifteen other women, who finished in the race eclipsed the old record of 20 minutes. Only one entrant failed to finish. The swimmers were aided by a swift flood.

DEATH CLAIMS WACO WOMAN IN SEATTLE

MRS. KATE GERALD WEAVER PASSES AWAY FOLLOWING AT-TACK PTOMAINE POISONING.

DAUGHTER LATE JUDGE GERALD

Body Will Be Cremated at Los Angeles and Ashes Brought Here—Most of Her Life Spent in Waco.

Died, at 11:35 a. m. Sunday, in Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Kate Gerald Weaver, wife of J. W. Weaver, aged about 35 years.

Seattle time is about three hours slower than Waco time and it was not until afternoon that the message which brought the news of her death reached the family in Waco. Before that there had been a number of messages exchanged between Waco and Seattle, and the serious condition of Mrs. Weaver, which developed Saturday, caused Mr. Weaver to start for her bedside early Sunday morning. He had barely reached Denison when the news arrived in Waco, and a hurried message over the Western Union was handed him, advising him of the death of his wife, so that he would continue the journey in the full consciousness of the loss that had come to his life.

Mr. Weaver left Waco early in August for a trip through the west, intending after visiting relatives in Seattle to go to San Francisco to the exposition and then to visit friends in Los Angeles. She arrived at Seattle August 15, and was a guest in the home of Clarence J. Gerald, formerly of McGregor in this county, but who now lives in the west, and who was a cousin. Tuesday following her arrival in Seattle she was taken sick, and it was determined she had ptomaine poisoning. At first the attack was thought to be slight, but the family was advised, and as there was every possible attention being given, no thought of serious results was had, and it was not until Saturday that the news from Seattle appeared to be grave. The result was the death of Mrs. Weaver Sunday morning.

Mrs. Weaver was the wife of J. W. Weaver, former official stenographer in the Seventy-fourth district court, and the daughter of Judge and Mrs. G. B. Gerald. She was born in Mississippi, but during her childhood the family moved to Texas and to Waco where her entire life has been spent here, except for a short time she lived in Galveston, directly after her marriage. She was educated in Baylor University and at the Academy of the Sacred Heart. Her girlhood was spent with those of the day when Waco was the center of the large towns of the state, when the social affairs of Texas considered Waco the center. Hers was a girlhood in the days of the Old Waco Grays, military and social organization of young men, which led the state in affairs of social nature, and her entire life has been spent here, except for a short time she lived in Galveston, directly after her marriage.
